WELCOME!

---

Welcome to our new subscribers.

What a busy few months. We have finally received funding to build our new house so hopefully that will get started by the end of September and we should have a new place by Christmas. This means things will be quite hectic over the coming weeks and is the reason why I've slowed down with both the newsletter and the podcast.

It's been a shocker of a few months too with the passing of some incredible people - I think the quote from Robin Williams (from the movie 'Jack') is probably the most apt right now. Explaining suicide to my teenage daughter has been an incredibly emotionally draining thing. Particularly when I have no understanding of the motivation myself.

I hope that you are all doing okay and making your lives spectacular! Don't try to be perfect: remember we came into this world perfect! Be happy. And remember you may not see it right now but there is ALWAYS a way to turn things around. Always.

Till next time!

Lyn PB

QUOTE

NBN - How much does it cost?

---

With the impending move further west I've begun to think about our internet connection and what's available. Unfortunately further west it may well be only wireless or satellite (since there'll be no cabling to where we are). But I thought this article from Business IT interesting. They also do a comparison between a few providers. The article IS from April 2013 so things may well have changed, but it's a good starting point.

According to Business IT Parallels Access is a remote desktop program which makes it possible to control your PC over the internet and display the content on your iPad or iPhone (there is also an Android app - see the What's App sidebar for links). You can launch applications without having to navigate the Windows or Mac user interface. There are three components: an application running on the computer; an app running on your tablet device; and a service hosted on the internet linking the two programs (running at about $19.99 a year - with a 14 day free trial).

Another f*ee way to access your desktop from a tablet is offered by Citrix ShareConnect. Read more about it in this Bit IT article
